You have the choice to seek care outside the network and still be covered, although you’ll be responsible for more of the cost. For out-of-network care, you are also responsible for any “balance billing,” the difference between the provider’s bill and the insurance plan’s allowed amount.

CHIP

What is an HSA?

An innovative investment offering tax savings

An HSA (Health Savings Account) is a tax-exempt investment vehicle. It works with qualified high-deductible plans such as CHIP's HSA Plan, to save you money. With an HSA, you can "self fund" out-of-pocket health care expenses – such as your deductible, coinsurance, and unreimbursed medical bills – with tax-free money. The insurance then covers you against the risk of catastrophic medical bills.

Who's eligible to open an HSA?

You're eligible to open a tax-saving HSA if you are:

- Under age 65
- Not eligible for Medicare
- Not claimed as a dependent on someone else's tax return
- Covered by a qualified, high-deductible health insurance plan
- Not covered by any other non-qualified HSA health insurance plan.

Tax-deductible contributions

HSA contributions are tax-deductible, even if you don't itemize. Your taxable income is reduced by the amount you contribute to your HSA each year.

How much can you contribute?

With CHIP's HSA Plan, the most you can contribute in 2010 is $3,050.00.

If you are opening your HSA at sometime other than the first of the year, the maximum amount you can contribute for 2010 will be reduced. The government adjusts contribution maximums annually.

Contributions for the taxable year can be made in one or more payments. People ages 55 to 64 can make additional "catch-up" contributions for any previous year in which qualified insurance was in effect.

Tax-free interest from the HSA of your choice

Like an IRA, investment earnings on your HSA account accrue tax-free.*

*Many financial institutions offer HSAs and you are free to open an HSA at the bank of your choice. One such bank offering HSAs is HSA Bank,TM a vendor of CHIP's administrator, BlueAdvantage. ***

For current rates available from HSA Bank, call toll-free 1-866-471-5929, or visit www.hsabank.com and click on "Rates" in the pull-down menu under "Account Features." You'll also find a tax tool there to help you see how much you can save.

Tax-free withdrawals for qualified medical expenses

HSA withdrawals – including interest earned – are tax-free* for a variety of qualified medical expenses, including:

- Your health insurance deductible and coinsurance amounts
- Payments for the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease not reimbursed by your qualified health plan
- Dental and vision care
- Long-term care services and long-term care insurance
- Retiree health insurance premiums – including Medicare but not Medicare supplement (Medigap) premiums. (Medicare beneficiaries are ineligible to open an HSA. However, HSA contributions may be used to pay Medicare premiums in the future.)

Balances roll over year after year

An HSA is an investment you can keep for life. If you don't use all of the money in your HSA to pay for medical expenses in one year, funds roll over to the next year. You can let funds continue to accumulate over the years. It's another federally approved, tax-sheltered way to save for retirement. And, there's no lifetime contribution maximum.

It's easy to open your HSA

Upon approval for CHIP HSA, BlueAdvantage will send you an HSA Bank application. If you prefer, call HSA Bank at 1-866-471-5929.

HSA Bank offers many attractive benefits, including online banking. You also have the option of using any local bank that offers Health Savings Accounts. Ask about setup fees and monthly maintenance fees to ensure you receive the maximum benefit from your contributions.

* To receive tax-free benefits, HSA withdrawals can only be used for qualified medical expenses.

 You are not required by Blue Advantage Administrators to use HSA Bank as your HSA trustee.
